How Typing Pal Online meets your typing needs

Keyboard mastery is an essential skill for students. Good typing technique allows them to focus on language quality as well as structure and content for better communication.

Typing Pal Online is an entirely web-based keyboarding tutor that meets student and teacher needs in the most stimulating way. It efficiently builds and strengthens students' skills while making the teacher's job easier.

Each user has a personal account that can be accessed from any computer connected to the Internet, which helps link home and school. No download necessary!

Typing Pal Online challenges all K12 students and keeps them truly engaged all the way to success. Age-adapted work environments present them with a clear learning path. Individual objectives can be set for each user. A large scope of customized and standard exercises helps develop and improve skills gradually and efficiently. Everything is designed to optimize student involvement. Funny animations during exercises, engaging games and frequent feedback maintain student motivation and interest at a high level.

Typing Pal Online also offers teachers all necessary tools to quickly organize and customize the contents and objectives of each lesson, leaving them more quality time to spend with students. It is possible to import student lists and create groups, see each student's activity log and export statistics to closely monitor progress.

Pedagogical tools are available to facilitate typing instruction and communication with parents and students. Teachers can always rely on our team for help and support whenever needed.
